The courthouse will remain at Eastville, to the gratification not only of the great body of people of Northampton, but of their sister county as well. The people of that county said in a way not to be mistaken that the location selected by their forefathers, as the most central and most convenient to the greatest number of its citizens was right and just and as such was approved by them. There it has been for time immemorial, there it will remain in the years to come, and that question settled, it is the duty now of the people of North ampton, not to patch as they propose to do the old courthouse, but to have one erected in keeping with the progressive age in which we live and which will reflect to some extent the enterprise, thrift and refinement of its people. London, Aug. 2.-The Havana correspondent of the Times, in a letter dated July 5, describes a condition of "growing indignation." He says: "Though Havana is still quiet, extra-ordinarily, ominously quiet, as a calm before a storm, there is an ever increasing feeling against the govern-ment's deceit in hiding the truth and spreading false news, apparently with the purpose of leaving the p-ople to the mercy of their enemies. A dispatch was then sent to Washington for "further ex-planation of some difficult points." When the replies are received the cabinet will reassemble. Senor Sagasta, the premier, confirms the report that "modifications of the original terms have been obtained."
